

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13

8:30AM Registration & Check-In
9:00AM Welcome & Opening Remarks

9:30AM - 10:30AM
1st Keynote Session:
Leading Inclusively: Transformative
Change Across the Globe

Agnes Binagwaho, Former Minister of Health for Rwanda & Vice Chancellor of the University for Global Health Equity, will set the stage by sharing her transformative leadership experiences in conversation with Author and CoFounder of TEDWomen, Pat Mitchell.

10:45AM - 11:45AM
Panel Session:
Transforming Organizations

Business organizations are instrumental in reshaping the world of work. Three leaders from nationally recognized companies -- Michelle Gadsden Williams (BlackRock), Sue Lam (Coca Cola), and Bentina Chisolm Terry (Georgia Power) -- will discuss through personal experiences how to create inclusive professional environments and transformative change. Moderated by the President of World Affairs Council of Atlanta, Rickey Bevington.

11:45AM Lunch

12:45PM - 1:45PM
2nd Keynote Session:
Women as Change Agents

Time and again, women's leadership has been shown to be the crucial factor in improving lives, whether in education, economic development, or health. Dir of International Affairs for the City of Atlanta, Vanessa Ibarra joins Paige Alexander, CEO of the Carter Center, to share how their leadership role in a public, non-profit organization can effect change in domestic and international arenas.

2:00PM - 3:15PM

Panel Session: *Building
Inclusivity from the Ground Up

Global solutions require local action. For leadership to be effective, it takes leaders who have the courage to tackle issues seen in their own community. Gabrielle Claiborne, Soumaya Khalifa, and Dr. Gulshan Harjee will share their inspiring stories and enable attendees to connect with the initiatives spearheaded by these leaders. Moderated by Assistant Dean for Inclusive Leadership Curriculum, Dr. Heather Scott.

3:30PM - 4:30PM

Closing Session & Call to Action:
Mobilizing Minds and Connecting People

Leadership is about mobilizing minds and connecting people for action. In the concluding keynote session, Ed Bastian, CEO of Delta, and Leocadia I. Zak, President of Agnes Scott College, will discuss inclusive leadership and share productive examples of partnerships between industry and education.

4:30PM - 5:00PM

Talk Back with Panel Two:
Building Inclusive Leadership from the Ground Up

Presenting Sponsor

BlackRock®